JOHN PARKER,

WILL SELL BY AN PRIVATE SALE

HIS PLANTATION, pleaſantly ſituated on the Head of Gooſe-Creek, ſixteen Miles from Charles-Town, ſix from the Village of Dorcheſter, and about two from a Landing. It is ſo well known as to render any pompous Deſcription or Recommendation altogether unneceſſary, farther than it is eſteemed by competent Judges, inferior to very few Plantations in the Province. The Goodneſs of the Buildings, as well as of the Land, and its Vicinity to the Metropolis, are undoubtedly very conſiderable Advantages, and add greatly to its Value. This Tract, which joins Lands of John Ainſlie, Eſq; the Heirs of Sarah Elmes, Iſaac Godin, Alexander Fraſer, Eſqr's. Major John Moultrie, Heirs of Thomas Bulline, and Mrs. Harvey, (late Charles Barker's) is ſuppoſed to contain about One Thouſand Five Hundred Acres, but will be ſold for One Thouſand Three Hundred Acres, more or leſs; about Two Hundred and Fifty Acres of which is Rice Land, which generally produces from two Barrels and a Half, to three Barrels per Acre, very bad Years only excepted; full Four Hundred Acres prime Corn Land, which, by being properly drained, would produce either Indico, Hemp, or Madder. The Neighbourhood is excelled by none, and would be a very agreeable Summer's Retreat, as well as a Place of Profit, for a Gentleman of Fortune. ALSO, His HOUSE and LOT in St. Philip's, Charles-Town, containing in Front Seventy-ſeven Feet and a Half on Old Church or Meeting-ſtreet, and about One Hundred and Ninety-five on a Street that leads from the Governor's Bridge and Mr. Raper's, called Pinckney's Street. On this Lot there is a cool, well-finiſhed HOUSE, Twenty-three Feet by Forty-ſix, built of the beſt Materials, with KITCHEN, WASH-HOUSE, STABLE, COACH-HOUSE, &c. The CELLAR to the Dwelling-Houſe is above ſeven Feet in the Clear, all paved, and the YARD and GARDEN ſufficiently large, on which there is Room to erect two other Buildings, which may be done to great Advantage, by any Perſon who chuſe to make the moſt of their Money in that Way. The Terms of Payment, as the Money is not wanted, will be made agreeable to the Purchaſer. For further Particulars, apply to the Proprietor, who will diſpoſe of ALL his SLAVES as ſoon as his Plantation is ſold (not before) and Poſſeſſion of the Premiſes may be had the firſt Day of July next, provided the Purchaſer take the Crop now on the Land, Stock, &c. otherwiſe not before the firſt of February next. The Houſe and Lot will be given up immediately.

N. B. The above Plantation will bear dividing, ſo as to have Eighty Acres Swamp in one Tract, with at leaſt One Hundred Acres of good High Land, Pine Barren, &c. All the reſt of the Tract will go with the Buildings if the Purchaſer chooſes it, or if more agreeable, a ſmall Tract only of about One Hundred and Forty-ſix Acres, ſeparate from the other, and purchaſed ſome Years ſince, will be taken off, and a proper Deduction made from the Price of the Whole. Alſo for Sale, a LANDAU, with Harneſs for four Horſes, not heavier than Coaches commonly are; a light, neat PHÆTON, and a Pair of likely Bay Chariot HORSES, fourteen Hands and a Half high, which likewiſe anſwer very well for the Saddle.

To be ſold at private Sale,

THE HOUSE and LOT in Bedon's Alley, late the Property of Mr. WILLIAM COOMER, deceaſed, and at preſent in the Occupation of Mr. Benjamin Lord, containing 30 Feet in Front and 125 Feet in Depth; whereon is a commodious Brick Houſe, containing ſix large Rooms and a Shop, a good Brick Kitchen, Garden, and other Conveniencies. The Purchaſer may have Credit to the firſt of June, 1772, paying Intereſt, and giving approved Security, to

ELIZABETH RUSSELL.

LONDON, MARCH 16.

A Gentleman juſt arrived from Paris ſays, that the late differences between the King and his Parliament are now likely to terminate in a manner much to the ſatisfaction of the generality of his ſubjects.

Orders are ſent to Chatham for the Ipſwich, of 64 guns, and the Suffolk, of 70 guns, to be got ready for ſea forthwith.

A letter from Paris, dated March 1, 1771, ſays, "Our Eaſt-India Company has received by a ſhip, juſt arrived from the iſland of Madagaſcar, an ample relation of the ſucceſs of a voyage made by M. Poivre to the Spice Iſlands. His ſhip left Madagaſcar in January 1769, and returned to the Iſle de France in the month of June in the year following, with a cargo of 400 plants of the nutmeg-tree, 10,000 nutmegs, 70 plants of the clove-tree, and a cheſt of cloves, all which productions, agreeably to an order of the upper Council of that place, will be planted there by repartition. They were brought thither from iſlands which do not depend on the Dutch Eaſt-India Company.---This project may not be quite ſo noble as that of Nabob-hunting, but is certainly more commercial, and will be perhaps, in the end, not leſs beneficial."

It is ſaid, that no demands of any kind have been made here from the court of France relative to our armaments; ſo that ſuch articles of intelligence are ſuppoſed to have been publiſhed to ſerve the private intereſt of the dealers in the Alley, every thing being ſettled in ſuch a manner as to promiſe peace and tranquility to all the powers which were lately thought to be at the eve of a rupture.

MARCH 19. It is reported upon 'Change, that a Treaty is on foot between the Court of Denmark and the States General, for the latter to furniſh the former with ſeveral capital ſhips of war, to act againſt the Algerines in the Mediterranean.

The Province of Zealand has refuſed its uſual ſupply, for the public Service of the United States, from a pretence of poverty.

It is ſaid a private treaty for the exchange of territories is on the carpet between the Auſtrians and French. The Emperor wiſhing to recover the ancient dominions of his anceſtors, the family of Lorrain, is to give an equivalent to the King of France, in Auſtrian Flanders; under the expreſs ſtipulation, that the Flandritzins are to retain all their ancient and preſent immunities.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, March 7.

"We have letters from Warſaw of the beſt authority, which mention, that one of the King of Poland's brothers is charged with the execution of an important commiſſion at the Court of [illegible] ſhortly expected. Notwithſtanding the preparations both of the Turks and Ruſſians, many people are of opinion that an accommodation may take place between them before the opening of the campaign."

A letter from Dublin mentions, that on the 7th inſtant, Edmund Sexton Perry, Eſq; Member for Limerick, was elected Speaker of the Houſe of Commons of that Kingdom, in the room of the Right Hon. John Ponſonby, Eſq; reſigned.

The King has been pleaſed to appoint the Hon. John Moultrie, Eſq; Lieutenant-Governor of Eaſt-Florida; and the Hon. Thomas Wooldridge, Eſq; Provoſt-Marſhal General of Eaſt-Florida, to be Receiver-General of his Majeſty's Quit-Rents, &c. and Archibald Ingram, Eſq; to be Receiver-General of the Quit-Rents of the iſland of St. Vincent's.

John Montagu, Eſq; Rear-Admiral of the Blue, is appointed Commander in Chief of his Majeſty's ſhips and veſſels in North-America.

Sunday Capt. Stott ſet out for Portſmouth, to proceed with the ſhips under his Command to take poſſeſſion of Falkland's-Iſland.

MARCH 23. Yeſterday, after breaking up of the Levee at St. James's, the Earl of Sandwich, and the Earl of Suffolk, now Privy Seal, had the honour of having a long conference with his Majeſty on important affairs.

Yeſterday his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, the Biſhop of Oſnaburgh, and the Princeſs Royal took a view of the Statue erected in memory of his late Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland in Cavendiſh-ſquare; they afterwards dined with Lady Charlotte Finch, at her apartments at St. James's.

Lord Rochford had a conference on Thurſday morning with the Spaniſh Ambaſſador at Powis Houſe, and the remaining part of the day his Excellency was engaged in writing diſpatches to the Court of Madrid, which were ſent off early this morning.

A Privy Council was held on Thurſday night, when the laſt diſpatches received from the Court of Peterſburgh (relative to the treaties between the Courts of Conſtantinople, Verſailles, and Madrid, recently concluded) were ſaid to be the ſubject of conſideration.

Thurſday, on the determination of the great Sutherland cauſe, Lord Mansfield and Lord Camden were the only ſpeakers upon the ſubject, and both were of the ſame opinion.

It was ſaid on Wedneſday night in the Lobby of the Houſe of Commons, that no other buſineſs, of any kind, would be entered upon, till that relating to the three City Magiſtrates and the Meſſenger ſhould be entirely ſettled.

Yeſterday there was a prodigious full Houſe of Commons, the Lord Mayor did not attend on account of his indiſpoſition, but a debate aroſe whether Mr. Alderman Oliver, who was preſent, ſhould not be examined before the Lord Mayor; debates ariſing on this head, and other debates expected to enſue, it was apprehended that they would ſit late. If his Lordſhip's health will permit he intends to be there on Tueſday next.

The reaſon of Mr. Alderman Trecothick being Locum Tenens is, his having ſerved but four months of the office of Mayor, and his Lordſhip returns him this compliment.

The following is the ſubſtance of the Recorder's Speech at the Court of Common Council, held at Guildhall on Wedneſday:

"He ſaid, that the motion was a ſurprize upon him, but that it appeared to him to be of ſuch a nature as to call upon him to offer his ſentiments to the Court upon it.

"That it appeared to him to have a very dangerous tendency; that it was widening a breach, which it was the duty of every honeſt man to attempt to ſtop; that if the Locum Tenens ſaw the queſtion in that light, he ought not to permit ſuch a queſtion to be put; that this queſtion tended to involve the Common Council, and to make them parties to a tranſaction, which he heartily wiſhed had never happened. That no friend to the conſtitution and liberties of this country, and leaſt of all the Common Council of the City of London, who have always taken an active part in ſupport of the rights of the people, ought to wiſh to deprive the Houſe of Commons of powers ſo neceſſary to its exiſtence; that without ſuch powers it would be impoſſible for the Houſe to act with effect, either in its legiſlative or judicial capacity; that no act could be paſſed, no election determined, no impeachment made or proſecuted, if any Commoner of this Kingdom could refuſe to give his attendance upon the Houſe when called upon.

"That to deny the Houſe a power of compelling an attendance by arreſt if neceſſary, in the caſe of contempts offered to the Houſe, or to deny the Houſe the power of determining what is a contempt offered to it, was denying to the Houſe of Commons the privilege of the loweſt Court of Record in this Kingdom, a privilege abſolutely neceſſary to enable the Houſe to ſupport its dignity, and to maintain the rank and influence it had acquired in the State.

"That the arming the Houſe with theſe privileges had created a balance againſt the power of the Crown, and the other branch of the Legiſlature in favour of the people, and had made the Houſe of Commons the bulwark of the people's liberties, that the robbing it of them would be robbing it of all its conſequence, and reducing it to be (what ſome have affected to ſuppoſe it to be) the inſtrument of deſpotiſm.

"That he was of opinion, that the power of the Houſe of Commons to arreſt and commit for contempts, ſtood upon the cleareſt foundation of Law and Uſage; and what had been done in oppoſition to it was wholly unprecedented; that it would be difficult to palliate the act, in as much as it could not be the duty of a Mayor or a Juſtice of the Peace to interrupt the execution of the proceſs of any court, much leſs of the Houſe of Parliament.

"That to thank the authors of that meaſure, was to adopt it, and was adding contempt to contempt.

"That it could produce no poſſible good effect, that it might involve the City in a controverſy of a very ſerious nature with the Houſe of Commons, and might endanger the public peace; and therefore he adviſed the Locum Tenens not to ſuffer the queſtion to be put."

Mr. Holder, Clerk to the Sitting Aldermen at Guildhall, was ordered to attend a Great Aſſembly yeſterday morning, with the minutes he took reſpecting the Printers.

The Committee who were appointed on Thurſday, by the Court of Common Council, to aſſiſt the Lord Mayor, waited upon his Lordſhip yeſterday morning at the Manſion-Houſe, and were deſired to give his Lordſhip [illegible] he had [illegible]

Thurſday night about ten o'clock an expreſs arrived from India, by the Lapwing Packet. She ſailed from Madraſs on the 14th of October, 1770.-----The Aurora and the Supervifors are loſt.

Governor Dupré, at Madraſs, refuſing to admit General Coote in all the latitude of his Commiſſion, that Gentleman is returning home by land in diſguſt. He ſailed from Madraſs for Baſſora, on the 15th of October laſt.

Heider Ali is reduced to the laſt extremity by the Marattoes. Their army winter in his country, and he has, in his diſtreſs, ſolicited the aid of the Company, but to no effect.

Things are in great confuſion on the coaſt. The Marattoes are ſaid to have ſent an embaſſy to Sir John Lindſay, on account of his being the King's Repreſentative in India.

By the Lapwing we learn, that all the outward-bound ſhips were ſafe arrived, except the Egmont, and that ſhe was ſeen going in.

Letters by the Lapwing bring the melancholy news, that there has been an univerſal famine throughout the kingdom of Bengal, and that the greateſt part of the inhabitants have died for want of neceſſary proviſions. Some of the letters ſay, that on this account a million and a half of people have periſhed; according to other letters, the number is not leſs than three millions; but they all agree, that there are ſcarcely enough left alive to bury the dead.

A long-continued drought had occaſioned the crop of rice to fail, and brought on the famine.

The following is the liſt of the Spaniſh men of war, ordered to be unmanned at the department of Cadiz, by a letter of the 22d of February laſt, viz. Realſenir, 80 guns, Marquez de Caſſinas; Rayo, 80, Don Juan de Salabaxxia; Princeſa, 70, Don Manuel de Floxes; Africa, 70, Don Joſeph de Roxas; Zolo, 70, D. Joachin de Olirarez; Triumphante, 70, D. Juan Ant. Cordero; Hector, 70, Don Juan de Soto; Dragon, 64, Don Joſ. de la Somalla; Septentrion, 64, Don Joſeph de Cordoba; Eſpana, 60, Don Joſeph Solano; Induſtria, 30, Don Antonio Oſorio; Venus, 30, Don Joſ. de Cartaneta; Eſmeralda, 30, D. Man. de Baſtarracheo; Juno, 20, Don Salvador Medina.

MARCH 26. Yeſterday his Serene Highneſs Prince Erneſt of Mecklenburgh, Brother to her Majeſty, paid a viſit to her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs Dowager of Wales at Carlton-Houſe, where he dined, and returned in the evening to his houſe at St. James's.

It is ſaid that her Majeſty has lately ſignified her deſire of making the tour of England the enſuing ſummer.

It is aſſerted that Lord Camden is at this time in high favour with a great Perſonage; and has had the honour of ſeveral private conferences at the Queen's-Palace.

Sunday in the afternoon Lord North had a long conference with his Majeſty at the Queen's-Palace.

TRECOTHICK, Locum Tenens.
CROSBY, Mayor.

A Common-Council holden in the Chamber of the Guildhall of the City of London, on Thurſday the twenty-firſt day of March, 1771.

(COPY)

Reſolved, That the thanks of this Court be given to the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor, and the Aldermen Wilkes and Oliver, for having on a late important occaſion ſupported the Privileges and Franchiſes of this City, and defended our excellent Conſtitution.

Sunday night the Committee appointed to ſupport the Right Hon. the Lord-Mayor, ſat at the Manſion-houſe, in order to conſider what ſteps ſhould be taken yeſterday, on his Lordſhip's going to the Houſe of Commons. They did not break up till ten o'clock.

Sunday fourteen Clerks were employed at the City Solicitor's-Office, tranſcribing the City charters and other ancient records.

LONDON, March 27.

A concise account of what paſſed on Monday in the Houſe of Commons.

Mr. Welbore Ellis moved, that the diſcharging J. Miller out of the cuſtody of the Meſſenger, was a breach of privilege.

George Onſlow, Eſq; ſeconded.

Sir George Savile moved the previous queſtion.

A long debate enſued.

At length the Houſe divided on the previous queſtion; 272 againſt, and 90 for it.

Upon this the Rockingham party ſeceded.

And the Lord-Mayor being very ill, had leave to go home.

The main queſtion was then put, and carried.

Between twelve and one the Houſe proceeded againſt Mr. Oliver.

Mr. Welbore Ellis moved, and Mr. Onſlow ſeconded, that Mr. Oliver having ſigned the warrant of commitment of the Meſſenger, was guilty of a high breach of privilege; and that for the ſaid offence, he be committed to the Tower.

A debate enſued.

Colonel Barré moved to adjourn.

This was debated; and many perſons were for it, in order to avoid too violent meaſures.

At length the Houſe divided upon the queſtion to adjourn; 97 were for it, and 214 againſt it.

Colonel Barré then ſaid, if the miniſtry were determined to proceed againſt all juſtice and honour, he would not be a witneſs of their impious and infamous tranſactions; and directly went out, as did alſo Mr. Serjeant Glynn, Mr. Dunning, and many more.

Mr. Oliver ſaid, he ſaw his fate was determined; and armed in his own innocence, and a ſtrong ſenſe of his duty, he defied their utmoſt malice.

Lord North begged he would make ſome apology---any apology he ſaid would be received.

Sir John Griffin moved an amendment to leave out the words Committed to the Tower, and inſert Reprimanded in his place.

Here thoſe gentlemen, who thought Mr. Oliver had done right, were obliged to go away, as, if they voted againſt the commitment, they admitted the reprimand.

A further account of the proceedings on Monday in the Houſe of Commons.

The Lord-Mayor attended in his place, and was preſent at the whole debate till near ten at night, when he deſired leave to withdraw, or that a bed might be procured for him there. After ſome little diſcuſſion of his requeſt, Mr. Dunning ſaid, that if he had been near enough to whiſper the Lord-Mayor, he would have given his advice upon the occaſion; but ſince he was not near enough for a whiſper, he would ſpeak it aloud, and that his advice to the Lord-Mayor was, that he ſhould go immediately out of the Houſe, and ſee who would dare to ſtop him. Soon after Lord North roſe, and ſaid, the Lord-Mayor might go, but that it muſt be underſtood that he was ſtill in his place, and as he was ill the Houſe would wink at his abſence. The Lord-Mayor accordingly departed.

The oppoſition to the miniſterial reſolutions againſt the city was opened by Sir George Savile, upon the moſt judicious ground. He was of opinion, that by refuſing to hear counſel to the whole defence of the Lord-Mayor and city of London, the Houſe had put itſelf out of the capacity of a juſt procedure in any future ſtep in that cauſe; he therefore moved the previous queſtion; declaring, that if it was not carried, he would think it his duty to retire from that buſineſs. He ſpoke, as uſual, with great coolneſs, and great preciſion. Mr. Dowdeſwell ſeconded the motion, which was much reliſhed by the whole minority, as a wiſe and well-conſidered propoſition. When the main queſtion was put, many leading members accordingly went away; others ſucceſſively withdrew. Several, however, ſtaid from curioſity, to ſee what fcatures of character the oppoſed [illegible] moved, and rejected. At length, when the motion was made for the commitment of Mr. Oliver to the Tower, Mr. William Burke ſaid, that no part of the buſineſs, from the complaint to the judgment, had been wiſely or equitably conducted; that he would, therefore, wiſh them a good night. A few minutes after, Lord George Germaine, Mr. Cornwall, and ſix or ſeven withdrew. Colonel Barré afterwards ſpoke with much force and vehemence, againſt their proceedings, and then left the Houſe with many more. Mr. Edmund Burke ſtaid a little longer, he ſpoke ſo low that he could ſcarcely be heard; his ſpeech, as much as could be diſtinguiſhed at ſome diſtance, was lamenting the miſerable conduct of the Houſe, in which hardly any thing prudent was left for them to do, and that they had choſen the moſt imprudent of all the methods in their power. He then retired; very few of the minority were left.

Mr. Alderman Oliver behaved with a ſpirit and intripidity which would have done honour to the heroes of antiquity. When the warrant was made out for committing him to the Tower, and read by the Speaker, it was remarked by the whole Houſe, that the ſteady patriot never once changed colour, or ſhewed the leaſt agitation of ſpirits. A motion was made, that Mr. Oliver ſhould be reprimanded by the Houſe, which that gentleman would not aſſent to, aſſerting that he had done no more than his duty.

Mr. James Townſend was in the Houſe on Monday, though extremely ill, and ſupported himſelf with his uſual firmneſs. Mr. Sawbridge and he declared, that had their ſituation been the ſame with that of the Mayor, they would have acted in the ſame manner. They denied, with great indignation, the charge of oppoſing the juſt privileges of the Houſe, in ſending for evidence, or committing for manifeſt contempts; but they diſtinguiſhed theſe caſes from the wanton calling before them any perſons on trivial, or no occaſions, merely for the vexatious and oppreſſive exerciſe of their power.

Mr. Townſend in the courſe of his ſpeech publicly declared in the Houſe, that ever ſince a certain Great Perſonage came to the throne, this nation had been conſtantly and invariably governed by one woman. The Houſe immediately cried out, "name her, name her." Why if I muſt name her, then I tell you, ſays Mr. Townſend, the woman I mean is the P----ſs D----- of W----. He was inſtantly called to order; but upon his ſtill inſiſting that this identical woman (as he called her) had governed this nation for theſe laſt ten or eleven years, the Houſe thought proper to drop the matter.

Serjeant Glynn behaved on this occaſion with his uſual good ſenſe and firmneſs. He came poſt-haſte from Exeter aſſizes on purpoſe. When in the Houſe he told them, that notwithſtanding their order enjoined, "that no proſecution ſhould be commenced againſt the perſon who aſſaulted one of the printers," he knew that the aſſaulter would be proſecuted; that he himſelf was engaged as counſel for the proſecutor, and that he would moſt certainly act as ſuch; and that he thus informed the Houſe of his fixed reſolution, that they might, if they pleaſed, now iſſue out their warrant to ſend him to the Tower.

About four o'clock yeſterday morning, the Houſe was up, and Mr. Oliver was ordered to the Tower, but was indulged to lie at his own houſe in Fen-church-ſtreet, where the Serjeant at Arms attended yeſterday morning between the hours of ſix and ſeven, and conducted him in a coach to the above priſon.

Sir Robert Ladbroke voted for the commitment.

Mr. Alderman Harley left the Houſe before the diviſion.

The Members who diſtinguiſhed themſelves moſt violently for the queſtions againſt the Lord-Mayor were Lord North, Meſſrs. Welbore Ellis, Onſlows, Jenkinſon, Dyſon, Thurlow, Wedderburne, Sir Gilbert Elliot, Fox, Maxworth, the Scotch and Welſh members generally, &c.

The Members in oppoſition who chiefly ſignalized themſelves on the occaſion were, Meſſrs. Burke, Barré, Sawbridge, Townſend, Glynn, Dempſter, Phipps, Sir William Meredith, &c. but Mr. Alderman Oliver will be immortalized.

The report which ſays that thoſe gentlemen of the committee appointed to aſſiſt the Lord-Mayor, in the defence of his late conduct, who attended him down to the Houſe of Commons, on Monday, were ordered into the Houſe along with his Lordſhip, is erroneous. They were not admitted into the Houſe.

During the time the Right Hon. the Lord-Mayor was ſpeaking in his defence, he felt ſuch exquiſite pain that he was three different times obliged to ſtop for the ſpace of ſome minutes, till the pain ſubſided.

We hear that the Right Hon. the Lord-Mayor will go from the Manſion-houſe, preciſely at one o'clock this day, in order to receive the ſentence of the Houſe of Commons, they having declared his Lordſhip's proceedings to be a breach of their privileges.

It ſtill remains the general opinion, that the Lord-Mayor will ſup with Mr. Alderman Oliver this night.---If this ſhould take place, it is believed that the whole Common-Council will wait upon his Majeſty with a Remonſtrance.

The guards, foot and horſe, are ordered to be in readineſs at a moment's notice.

Lord North moved, in which he was ſeconded by J. Dyſon, Eſq; to poſtpone the order for Mr. Wilkes's attendance till Monday next, and it was agreed to.

On Monday Mr. Robert Holder, clerk to the ſitting Aldermen at Guildhall, attended at the Houſe of Commons according to order, but was not called in.

Col. Barré ſaid on Monday night, to ſome gentlemen who oppoſed him, that he would ſpeak with a dagger, though he could not run it through their hearts.

Lord Temple, and a great number of the Nobility, and Members of the Houſe of Commons, viſited Mr. Oliver in the Tower yeſterday.

Yeſterday Serjeant Glynn paid a viſit to the Right Honourable the Lord-Mayor at the Manſion-houſe; after which he went to the Tower to ſee Mr. Alderman Oliver.

The patriotic lady of a certain Alderman declared, in public company, on Monday laſt, that ſhe would ſooner follow her huſband to the grave, than ſee him crouch to the preſent miniſtry.

The Common-Council met yeſterday, and reſolved, without any diviſion, or one hand being held up to the contrary.

1. That the Lord-Mayor be deſired to call a Common-hall the 11th of April.

2. That a table be kept for Mr. Alderman Oliver in the Tower, at the expence of the City. The ſecond reſolution was moved by Mr. Alderman Kirkman. And

Mr. Alderman Roſſiter was the only perſon who ſpoke againſt it. He wanted to know the number of diſhes, the expence, and ſo on; but found his words received with ſuch diſguſt and contempt, that he took ſhame to himſelf and ſat down.

Mr. Alderman Naſh was for deferring the attention of the City to the ſupport of their Magiſtrates, till after their petitions about Durham yard were decided---becauſe, he ſaid, that matter was of much more conſequence, and that they could not expect ſupport, if they ventured to irritate the Parliament.

The Eaſter ball is put off. The City will have no rejoicings whilſt their Magiſtrates are impriſoned.

March 28. The report of Lord Camden being in favour, and that he will ſoon be in a diſtinguiſhed poſt, though it is ſincerely deſired by every well-wiſher to his country, is premature.

Yeſterday the Houſe of Peers were up by four o'clock, and the final deciſion of the Angleſea Claim of Peerage was poſtponed for three weeks.

There were great debates in the Houſe of Commons, relative to the late conduct of the Lord Mayor, who returned to the Manſion-Houſe amidſt the acclamations of the people, between twelve and one o'clock, without the horſes of his coach, the populace drawing it.

The following Extract from the Journals of the Houſe of Commons was repeatedly mentioned, and diſputed on, in the Debates laſt Monday.

Jovis 26 die Februarii, anno 14 William III.

"The order of the day, for the Houſe to reſolve itſelf into a Committee of the whole Houſe, to conſider further of the Rights, Liberties and Privileges of the Houſe of Commons, being read, the Houſe reſolved itſelf into the ſaid Committee.

"Colonel Granville took the Chair of the Committee.

"Mr. Speaker reſumed the Chair.

"Colonel Granville reported from the ſaid Committee, That they had come to ſeveral reſolutions, which they had directed him to report, when the Houſe will pleaſe to receive the ſame.

"Ordered, That the report be made immediately.

"Colonel Granville reported from the ſaid Committee the ſaid reſolutions, which he read in his place, and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's table, where the ſame were read, and are as follow, viz.

"1. Reſolved, That it is the opinion of this Committee, that to aſſert that the Houſe of Commons is not the only Repreſentatives of the Commons of England, tends to the ſubverſion of the Rights and Privileges of the Houſe of Commons, and the fundamental Conſtitution of the Government of this Kingdom.

"2. Reſolved, That it is the opinion of this Committee, that to aſſert the Houſe of Commons have no power of commitment but of their own Members, tends to the ſubverſion of the Conſtitution of the Houſe of Commons.

"3. Reſolved, That it is the opinion of this Committee, that to print, or publiſh, any books or libels, reflecting upon the proceedings of the Houſe of Commons, or any Member thereof, for, or relating to, his ſervice therein, is a high violation of the Rights and Privileges of the Houſe of Commons.

"4. Reſolved, That it is the opinion of this Committee, that it is the undoubted Right of the People of England to petition or addreſs to the King, for the calling, ſitting, and diſſolving of Parliaments, and for the redreſſing of Grievances.

"5. Reſolved, That it is the opinion of this Committee, that it is the undoubted Right of every Subject of England, under any accuſation, either by impeachment, or otherwiſe, to be brought to a ſpeedy trial, in order to be acquitted or condemned."

Yeſterday the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor of the City of London went from the Manſion-houſe, about one o'clock, (accompanied by the Committee, among whom was Mr. Alderman Wilkes) to attend in his place in the Houſe of Commons, purſuant to order. He was attended, as on Monday, by a great number of people, who ſeemed anxious to know the iſſue of the affair.

Mr. Wilkes rode in his mother's chariot. Aldermen Stevenſon and Turner, Mr. Bellas and Mr. Reynolds, with the reſt of the Committee, attended on the occaſion.

Mr. Wilkes, when he went to the Houſe of Commons yeſterday, deſigned only to attend the Lord Mayor on his way. When his carriage reached St. Martin's Lane, the populace took off the horſes, and drew it to the King's Arms Tavern, Palace Yard.

The crowd was ſo great yeſterday in Old Palace Yard, and Weſtminſter Hall, that it was with the greateſt difficulty many of the Members, eſpecially the Court Party, got to the Houſe of Commons; Lord North had his chariot glaſſes ſmaſhed to pieces, as well as his carriage; his wriſt was cut; and the mob alſo took off his hat and cut it into pieces, and he narrowly eſcaped with his life. The two Mr. Foxes, and Mr. Hans Stanley, were greatly inſulted and pelted with mud; Juſtice Kelynge attempted to read the Proclamation, but was ſo pelted that he was obliged to deſiſt; two hundred Conſtables could not keep the populace in order, for on their endeavouring to keep the peace, the mob ſeized their ſtaves, and broke them to pieces. As ſoon as a Member's coach appeared, they ſtopt it, and obliged the coachman to inform them of his Maſter's name, and they were treated according as they ſtood in their approbation, ſome with hiſſes and groans, and others with loud acclamations.

The Houſe, in ſhort, could not proceed to buſineſs.

Finding how reſolute the people were, at length ſome of the Members came out, particularly Sir George Savile, Mr. Townſend, the Sheriffs, the two Mr. Burkes, Mr. Sawbridge, and Mr. Whitworth, who perſuaded the people to diſperſe, and particuiarly urged it as the requeſt of the Lord-Mayor.

Yeſterday morning many Perſons of Diſtinction viſited the Lord Mayor at the Manſion-houſe, expreſſed the warmeſt approbation of his Lordſhip's conduct, intreated him to continue ſteady, and aſſured him that they would be ready to ſupport him, even at the hazard of their lives and fortunes. They afterwards paid a viſit to Mr. Oliver in the tower.

Mr. Alderman Oliver is now confined in the ſame apartments as Mr. Wilkes was, when in the Tower; which the Warders have named, "The Altar of Liberty."

Sir Robert Ladbroke was very much againſt ſending Mr. Alderman Oliver to the Tower, and was on the ſide of acquitting both him, and the Lord Mayor, and did not leave the Houſe till near two o'clock, and then divided in the Minority.

It is ſaid, that a certain patriotic Alderman will be called to an account in a judicial way, for an aſſertion in a late ſpeech, which calumniated a Great Lady.

From Mr. Alderman Kirkman's behaviour in the glorious cauſe of Liberty, it is ſaid, that the Livery intend to elect him Sheriff for the enſuing year; and that Mr. Alderman Townſend and Mr. Alderman Sawbridge will be returned to the Court of Aldermen for their approbation as Lord Mayor of this City.

Tueſday ſeveral people applied to the Lord Mayor for leave to furniſh Mr. Oliver's table, voted by the Common-Council; one of the petitioner's added, that he hoped he ſhould have the honour to furniſh his Lordſhip's likewiſe.

So attentive are the Miniſtry to the preſent buſineſs in the Houſe of Commons, that it engroſſes their whole time; no Board having been held at the Treaſury for eleven days.

A military Gentleman, much talked of theſe two or three years paſt, has loſt ſuch large ſums at Hazard, as to oblige him to mortgage a very fine eſtate; and, it is ſaid, he will ſoon ſet out to take the Tour of Europe.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, March 15.

"The Diploma which proclaimed the Prince Royal to be King of Sweden in the room of his deceaſed Father, was brought hither laſt Monday by one of the principal Noblemen of that Kingdom. This new King and his Brother will leave Paris to-morrow, in order to return to Stockholm.

"It is ſaid that the Jeſuits are employing every Artifice in order to get their Order re-admitted in France; and that they have found means to inſinuate themſelves into the good Graces of the Counteſs de Barré, from which they conceive great hopes of ſucceſs."

Lord North has not yet been diſmiſſed, nor has he reſigned, though one of theſe events is hourly expected.

Yeſterday, about one o'clock, the Lord-Mayor, attended by his Committee, and a vaſt number of citizens, merchants, and independent gentlemen, went to the Houſe of Commons. The row of carriages reached from St. Paul's to Charing-croſs. The city was all in motion, and the citizens by acclamations, teſtified their approbation of his conduct.

On Tueſday night, about ten o'clock, a man went to the Manſion-houſe, and being admitted, aſked if his Lordſhip went to the Houſe yeſterday. When he was anſwered in the affirmative, he ſaid he came from the Fields, and that he belonged to a large body, who were ready to aſſiſt his Lordſhip if it was required: he was then aſked what Fields; he replied, Spital-fields. Being told the Lord-Mayor did not mean to encourage a riot, and being urged not to attempt any thing of that kind, he went away ſeemingly diſſatisfied, ſaying, that they would, notwithſtanding, wait on his Lordſhip, and ſee that no violence was offered him.

Yeſterday morning the Juſtices and Conſtables were at the Houſe of Commons by twelve o'clock, before the Lord-Mayor came down, to guard the avenues of the Houſe, and prevent the members from being inſulted.

Laſt night, after this paper was at preſs two hours, we had advice, that the Lord-Mayor was ordered to be committed to the Tower by the Houſe of Commons.

An Evening paper of laſt night ſays, on Monday a member of the Lower Houſe was audacious enough to ſay, that, if the City could not otherwiſe be quieted, it was time to draw the ſword.

Mr. Dempſter ſpoke admirably well laſt Monday, and ſaid, that as the Members were the ſervants of their conſtituents, they ought to be acquainted with what they were doing.

General Conway ſaid, that he was not in the Houſe when the buſineſs firſt came on, and he wiſhed it had never come on; but that now it was gone ſo far, he certainly ſhould go on with it.

After Mr. Townſend had named the P---ſs D---r of W---s, on Monday, in the Houſe of Commons, he recommended to that Houſe to reſolve themſelves into a Committee to enquire into her conduct.

The Houſe of Commons will break up this day for the holidays, till Thurſday in Eaſter week; ſo ſhort an adjournment was never known.

The order for Mr. Wilkes's attendance on the Houſe is for Monday ſe'nnight.

We hear that the India Bill, which has been deferred by the queſtion of privilege, will certainly come on before the Houſe of Commons this day.

On Tueſday ſo many people of different ranks flocked to the Tower, that the gates were obliged to be ſhut, which was done with much difficulty, and one of the Wardens was twice knocked down in attempting it.

A correſpondent applauds Mr. Oliver for refuſing, at the requeſt of Lord North, to make any apology, as any apology would have been an acknowledgment of an offence, when he was convinced he had done no more than his duty.

A gentleman obſerved to Mr. Alderman Oliver, that by his ſuffering himſelf to be ſent to the Tower, he had broken the promiſe which he made to the Livery at his election, "that he would not accept of any honours from the preſent or any other Adminiſtration"; and aſked him how he could vindicate himſelf. The Alderman replied, the Miniſtry were ſo very preſſing, that he could not poſſibly refuſe them.

A correſpondent ſays, "If the Members of a certain Aſſembly had read the dedication of Malachi Poſſletbwayte to the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Common-Council of the City of London, in the laſt edition of his Commercial Dictionary, they probably would have better conſidered the weight and importance of that illuſtrious Corporation, and had never gone the lengths they have done."

This day a Court of Common Council will be held at Guildhall, Alderman Trecothick Locum Tenens, to hear the determination of the Houſe of Commons reſpecting the Lord-Mayor; alſo to conſider of the adjournment of the report of the Black-friars-bridge Committee, and Mr. Myne's petition relating thereto.

The Lord-Mayor received a letter from the electors of Honiton on Tueſday, expreſſing their great eſteem and friendſhip for his Lordſhip.

Gooſe-Creek, May 26, 1771.

TAKEN out of a Negro Houſe, by the Patrole, a neat Silver NECK BUCKLE, ſet in Stone. Whoever will prove their Property to the ſame, may have it again, by applying to JOHN BOWLES.

Yeſterday about two o'clock the Right Hon. the Lord-Mayor, attended by Mr. Alderman Oliver, went from the Manſion-houſe, to attend in their reſpective places in the Houſe of Commons, purſuant to orders iſſued to them on Friday laſt. There was a prodigious concourſe of people about the Manſion-houſe to ſee them come out, and the crowd continued to increaſe the whole way to Weſtminſter-Hall.

The Aldermen who attended the Lord-Mayor to the Houſe of Commons yeſterday were Meſſrs. Oliver, Turner, and Stevenſon. There were but few Gentlemen's coaches; and the mob which attended wore pieces of white paper in their hats, which occaſioned an honeſt Hibernian to exclaim, Arrah! what the Devil, my Dear, have they brought over a parcel of our White-Boys?

On their arrival at the Houſe, the general approbation of the Lord-Mayor's conduct in this important affair was expreſſed by loud and long-continued acclamations.

Yeſterday morning a great number of Members came down early to the Houſe of Commons, in order to take their places, expecting a very full Houſe.

We hear that Sir G----- S------ deſired the previous queſtion, before any queſtion ſhould be put againſt the City Magiſtrates, and hoped that every independent Member would, like him, leave the Houſe if they were treated rigorouſly.

Yeſterday above ten thouſand pounds was done upon the Lord Mayor of London, at Jonathan's; forty guineas being given to receive a hundred when he was ſent to the Tower or expelled.

The Lord-Mayor returned from the Houſe of Commons laſt night, about eleven o'clock, attended by a number of perſons, to the Manſion-Houſe.

It is thought a motion will be made, at the next Court of Common-council, relative to the conduct of a certain City Clerk.

A Gentleman ſpeaking of Mr. Wilkes's Quarrel with Mr. Macleane, ſaid, it was but too true that he was conſtantly abuſing his beſt friends; the Miniſtry, obſerved he, were the beſt friends he ever had, they have been the inſtruments of paying his debts, of putting money in his pocket, of making him Alderman of London, and yet he is ungrateful enough to abuſe them conſtantly in the face of the whole Kingdom.

The Turkey or Levant Company have preſented a petition to a great Aſſembly, and recommended by his Majeſty, complaining of the great decay of their trade, and particularly ſince the commencement of the war between the Turks and Ruſſians, that they are annually at the expence in the payment of Conſuls, Vice-Conſuls, &c. of 10,000l. which they are unable to ſupport, and deſiring the aid of Parliament, which is to be taken into conſideration.

The Empreſs Queen's motives for entering into the war, are to erect the poſſeſſions, which the Porte wreſted, upon former occaſions, from the Houſe of Auſtria, into a Kingdom, for her ſon-in-law the Duke of Saxe Teſchen.

A gentleman, who has lately arrived from Bengal, has juſt informed us, that 450,000 is the greateſt number that hath died in that kingdom of the famine.

All the foreign papers are crowded with the Remonſtrances of the different Parliaments of France, againſt the innovations lately crept into that kingdom. The people indeed there ſeem to be upon the tiptoe of rebellion.

Extract of a letter from Paris, March 12.

"The people here in general are tranſported with joy at ſeeing their oppreſſors, the Counſellors of Parliament, and all their train of Petty-foggers, Serjeants, Bailiffs, Followers, &c. chaſtiſed. But the gang made a ſtrong combination, and like true thieves, ſupported one another, and employed the loweſt and double diſtilled raſcals to cry out, The People are for the Parliament---The People are for Liberty. As for the laſt, the French people are, and were always not only lovers of Liberty, but many individuals have and do maintain it at the expence, the hazard, and with the loſs of life.

"How frequent is deſertion in the ſoldier, when inſulted: They bear ſtarving and fatigue, but when their honour is touched, and they inſulted, they deſert at the hazard of almoſt certain death. Do not gentlemen, when oppreſſed, fly to the deſperate reſource of ſingle combat; though conqueſt enſures either baniſhment, or infamous death?

"The creatures ſent into baniſhment were no Members of Parliament; they were only Lawyers, who bought their ſeats. They quarrelled with the Crown for their own little ſelfiſh points, but never puſhed one thing for the public good. They not only ſat down in ſeeing our Habeas-Corpus deſtroyed by daily Lettres-de-Cachet, for taking up whom they pleaſed; they never called to account the Intendants, nor the Gen-des-Affairs, for pillaging the people; and only quarrelled with the Crown to get more power to themſelves, and not to help the people."

Extract of a letter from the Hague, March 19.

"Some mention has been made in the public papers, of a diſpute between the Count d'Orlow, commander in chief of the Ruſſian fleet in the Mediterranean, and Admiral Elphinſton, but the cauſe of it was never aſſigned. According to the laſt letters from Leghorn, the Count d'Orlow had ordered Admiral Elphinſton to go upon a ſecret expedition, which the latter thought proper to decline, in conſequence of which a great altercation enſued between them, and Elphinſton perſiſting in his refuſal, Count d'Orlow put him under arreſt, and ſent an expreſs to inform the Empreſs of what he had done. The Count is ſo highly in the good graces of her Imperial Majeſty, that it is thought Admiral Elphinſton will pay dear for his diſobedience."

Mr. Irwine a Surgeon in the navy has diſcovered a method of making Sea Water freſh by diſtillation, and with no greater expence of fuel than is uſed in ordinary caſes; this gentleman tried the experiment lately on board the Arrogant, a 74 gun ſhip, at Spithead, in the preſence of ſeveral competent judges, who all approving of his method, gave him a certificate, atteſted under their hands, which being produced at the Board of Admiralty, their Lordſhips requeſted him to repair to Portſmouth, and ſee all the men of war deſtined for the Eaſt-Indies, fitted under his inſpection for making uſe of his proceſs.

NEWCASTLE, March 23. We hear a ſubſcription will be opened here next week, for ſupporting thoſe printers who have lately withſtood the arbitrary mandates of ſome branches of the legiſlature, and who, by appealing to the laws of their country, have done their duty to preſerve the moſt invaluable, if not the only right, which ſtill remains to Engliſhmen. It is not doubted, but the like meaſure will be adopted in every free borough and City in the kingdom; that Miniſters may know, that thoſe who cannot govern by law, ought not to govern at all.
